Special Notice

HAVE decided to send out this Price List instead of my regular Catalogue this season, for owing to the increased cost of production I would have had to advance prices twenty-five per cent had I got out my regular Catalogue in numbers to send my constantly increasing list of customers, whereas by reducing advertising expenses by issuing this smaller list, I have advanced the prices on most varieties from ten to fifteen per cent only, and on some varieties not at all. I have already received many orders for Spring delivery from old customers which is the best testimonial I could wish for. My prices are as low as the kind of plants I furnish can be sold at a profit and while I enjoy furnishing plants that bring my old customers back with their friends for more, I am not in the business solely for pleasure or for my health. Remember I dig the entire row whereas many dig only the small late plants from the edges, leaving the strong center plants for fruiting; and in fact these plants that they leave are in better condition for fruiting by the removal of the inferior plants that their customers get for setting. So you can readily see that their profit is two-fold; first by getting paid for the plants they should remove for their own benefit and afterward a crop of fruit that is better than it would have been had all the plants been left.

Can you not see why they can sell cheaper?

Can you afford to throw away a years time and work or any part of it by seeming to save a little by buying cheap plants?

I will not have room to say much on varieties this year but another years fruiting confirms most of what I said in last years Catalogue and some of the newer varieties are proving to have market value.

I will name a few of the most popular varieties under their respective seasons to guide those not acquainted with their time of ripening.

For Extra Early—Fairfield, Michaels Early, Early Beauty, Youngs Early Sunrise and Virginia.

Early and Early Midseason—Sen. Dunlap, Climax, "3 W," Beder Wood, Bubach, Colossus, Parsons Beauty and Pocomoke.

For Midseason to Late—Sample, Wm. Belt, Glen Mary, De Wet, Splendid, Miller, Marshall, Aroma, Cardinal, New York and Ridgeway.

For Late to Latest—Brandywine, Bradley, Commonwealth, Latest, Rough Rider, Gandy, Stevens Late Champion, Nettie and Chesapeake.

I can specially recommend Sen. Dunlap, Sample, Wm. Belt, Brandywine, Glen Mary, Marshall, Beder Wood, Splendid and Gandy among the older ones, and Cardinal, "3 W," Stevens Late, Bradley, Nettie, Latest and Mrs. Miller among the newer varieties.

The following I have not fruited sufficiently to speak in recommendation but they are highly praised by those that should know. Abington, Good Luck, Great Scott, Mammoth Beauty, Oswego, Virginia, Dickey, Golden Gate, Chipman and Chesapeake.

Varieties marked (P) have pistillate blossoms and will not fruit unless planted near staminate or perfect blossoming varieties, which are marked (S); but when so planted are the heaviest yielders.

GUARANTEE TRUE TO NAME--I am very careful that plants shall be true to name and have never had reports of any proving otherwise, but should a mistake occur it is mutually agreed that I will not be held responsible for more than amount received for plants.

If you do not understand any point clearly or if I have left out the information you are looking for, write plainly what you wish to know and I will answer as fully as time will permit. Remember I have much more time for this in March than later.

DISCOUNT--To encourage early orders; I will on orders received before April 1, with cash in full, allow a cash discount of 10 per cent.

I could fill a page, giving good reasons why it is to your advantage to order early if I should go into details, but suffice to say I believe you will realize it is to your interest, and act accordingly.

ANNOUNCEMENT FOR 1909

The Terms, Discounts, Etc., in the old circular that accompanies this sheet hold good for this season but the old prices are void.

THE natural increase of business from old customers and their friends almost keeps pace with my increased facilities for handling it; but with a larger acreage than ever before I hope to be able to care for many new customers as well as all the old ones. My plants never went into the winter in finer condition and as they are now sleeping under a good mulch of straw they should be in good shape when the spring bids them waken.

The supply of plants throughout the country is very short, owing to the prolonged drouth of late summer and early autumn and most of the best growers have made a material advance in prices. The main standard varieties I have raised but little and many of the newer introductions I quote considerably lower.

Those that have had plants in the past know the quality of stock I put out and know that it does not pay to buy cheap plants.

I think I can convince others of the same fact if they will favor me with their orders. GOOD plants PROPERLY packed cannot be put out at the catchy prices often advertised.

Judging from the inquiries already pouring in and the general shortage of good plants, I believe the demand will be very heavy and if you do not wish to be disappointed, order early. Remember as heretofore, all plants shipped after May 20 are wholly at purchasers risk. If unable to set early; get plants early and heel them in. They can then be moved later with practically no loss. Write your wants and I will gladly advise you to the best of my ability and can make special quotations on large numbers of certain varieties. Remember the plant crop is short and ORDER EARLY.

HIGHLAND

Introduced for the first time this season the Highland comes before the public with stronger endorsements than most new introductions. For four years it has been fairly tested on the grounds of the Ohio Experiment Station and found the most prolific of any variety tested. The following is quoted from the Ohio Station Pulletins. "Highland was the most prolific variety in our collection. It is very promising and desirable, especially for the grower who is situated near a good home market. Fruit medium to large, bluntly conical; color bright scarlet; flesh red clear through. Plants very large, strong and vigorous. Flowers imperfect and quite resistant to cold. Highland gives bright promise of being a great business berry and a money maker for even the small planter." Price $2 per dozen, $10 per 100.

SARATOGA

SARATOGA (S)—This berry was first introduced last season and bids fair to make a place for itself among the standard varieties. It has yielded at the rate of 5918 quarts per acre at one picking and has been tested on different soils for four years with better results the past season than ever; one picker picking thirty-six quarts in less than one hour. Plant large, strong and healthy. Blossoms perfect. Berries large to very large, borne on tall, strong stems, fine shape, good quality, deep red in color and very firm. A seedling of Sample fertilized with Glen Mary it seems to inherit the good qualities of both parents with added lateness. Price $1.00 per dozen, $5.00 per 100.
